the honor to outer your saurages at the approaching election.

The measures that a member of the House of Commons may be called on to deal with being different from those of a member of the Hotal legislature; being in their nature more national, it is doubtiess expected that I as a candidate should advert to at least some of them that more directly concern your interests. I will say, then, that having been one of the earliest advocates of a Canadian Transcontinental Rajiway, I shall, if elected, consider it to be my parameunt duty in view of making it, a grand national success, to insist that the Terminus shall be at Espaimalt, and that the line shall trayerse the entire outh-Eastern Coast of the Island from Johnson Straits

Under the Terras of Union with the Dominicu, it is the province of the local legislature, and not of the Dominion Parliament, to decide as to file kind of tariff that the people of British Columbia deem to be best suited to their varied industrial interests, during the next ten years. Should, however, the question come before the Dominion Parliament, I shall endeavor to have the tariff so tramedage to used with the concarrence of the agricultural, mining, and commercial interests of your district.

As the Dominion now possesses exclusively the right to manage our poetal and relegraphic affairs, I shall chedevor to secure for the Eastern Coast a Lisweekly, mail steamer of a superior class to the one now plying on the coast,—and also better mail facilities in each settlement and as I deem if to be of years importance commercially to have the most rapid means of transmitting intelligence between Nanaimo and Victoria, I shall urge, on the Federal Government the importance of the early construction of a telegraph line to connect the two principal towns in the Province.

The Fisheries along our coasts premise to become very profitable, and as the beminion toverment has agreed to extend its protection and encouragement to that valuable and important boranch of industry, I will eindeavor to secure for your district its full share of any aid that may be appropriated for that purpose.

Not being aple at this time to explain my views at greafer length, I will take an early opportunity to meet you personally and cohectively in the different settlements, when I may bring under your notice other questions of a Provincial and Dominional character.

In constitution, Goldiemen, if you should do me the hon, I te return me to the House of Commons as your representative, I pledge myself to faithfully serve your interests to the best or my ability.

CENTLEMEN:—While travelling through your discrete in July last, I was the recipient of very great encouragement to offer myself as a Candidate for the Parliament of the Dominion, of which this Province now so happily forms a part.

In soliciting your support at the forthcoming election it becomes my duty to express my views an Dominional politics, having a direct bearing upon the interests of littish Columbia, which I shall do as briefly as possible. I shall be a stands supporter of the present Government of Canadia so long as that flovernment shall administer the affairs of this Dominion in general, and of this Province in particular, in a satisfactory manner.

Knowing the feasibility of the Canadian Pacific Railroad from personal observation along the greater part of the probable line of ronte, and having advocated such an enterprise in my Onerland Journal, published in Ontarions well as on this coast for the past twelve years, I shall endeavor, by every means in my power, to being that grand undertaking to a successful termination at Equimalt or some other harbor on Vancouver Island.

I may here say that I am not in flow of introducing Coolic labor either on the Bailroad or other public works and will strennously resist any attempt in that direction. Should the Tariff problem not be solved by the Local Legislature; but a modification of the Canadian Tariff, is so for as agricultural produce is concerped, recommended, I shall make every possible effort to secure its adeption by the Evderal Parliament.

I am fully of the opinion that the Federal Government will place mail communication on a thoroughly efficient footing from Sooke to Comox long before the re-opening of Parliament; should this, however, not be the case is hall, if elected your representative, see to it, that every settlement is shuly cared for in this important particular.

The "Guardian" on the New Min-SEL listry. The New Ministry wanted a newspi per mouthpiece, and as it had not talent eneugh to secure one at head-quarters it has gone abroad to obtain it. So the famous city of New Westminster has the high honor of being doubly honored:first by having one of its earliest, most genial, and distinguished citizens placed in the Ministry; and secondly by the selection of its only journal, the Mainland Grandian, as the political organ, the ministerial cracks of the McCreight Cab met. Henceforth Victoria and Cariboo like Delphi and Japiter Ammon, will cease to be centres where the oracular ntterances of Government may be found. Hereafter quidnunes will anxiously await the arrival of the Guardian to learn what new surprise our wonderful Ministry, has in store for them; and at the same time the public at large will laugh at ministerial folly in securing a penry whiatle to set the political tunes of the Colony. But wonders will never cease. certifuly not while the McCreight Ministry, retain the reins of power. We shalf in all probability, after its early demise, find one or more of Victorian journals occupying their natural position in the press of the Colony. Till then we shall pay our respects to the Guardian, note its atterances,-and comment on its vagaries. The last issue bringe us an article on the "New Ministry." The first impression one feels after reading it is that the Ministry is "powerfully weak" next that the leade - naker knew it ; and lastly that the public were thoroughly convinced of the fact. Of coarse there is an attempt to be-little some of our prominent public men by calling them "ambitious politicians" and "unscruplous professional politicians," and members are implored not to throw the reins of government into the hands of a factious opposition. Now all these charges and here manufactured at the instance of the New Minstry, we trust that the members will hold, Messrs. McCreight, Robertson and Holbrook responsible for.

GENTLEMEN GOING TO ESQUI To suppose differently, would be to conclude that the people of this Province are a pack of mummies. "Ambitious poli-ticians" judged! "Professional politi-cians" indeed! Now who are they? Are they the men who year by year for the last ten or fourteen years have refased quarter with a despotic government, -and who have shown a self-abnegation only produced by such political circumstances as this Province has passed through ? No. The ambitious politician is Mr. McCreight. A gentleman who never spent an hour's toil to serve the country except he was paid professionally for it; and who was never known to subscribe an onnce of gold in a decade of years to advance either Responsible Govorument, Union of the Province, or Confederation with Canada. But who now accepts an Attorney Generalship because it may, if he should be successful, place him on the bench as a Judge of our Supreme Court. What public claim has he to consideration, except being a first-class lawyer? It cannot be that he has merited the distinction because he deserted the Confederate League in 1868, and like some other weak-kneed dabblers in politics, waited till men of sterling metal secured the victory—and then came forth at the beck of cupidity, at the eleventh hour, to get.

League in lease and like some other weak-kneed dabblers in politics, waited till men of sterling metal secured the victory—and then came forth at the beck of cupidity, at the eleventh hour, to get.

League in lease and like some other weak-kneed dabblers in politics, waited till men of sterling metal secured the victory—and then came forth at the beck of cupidity, at the eleventh hour, to get. of cupidity, at the eleventh hour, to get more wages than those who have "borne the burden and heat of the day." This is the distinguished gentleman who in-spires the Guardian to assail as "ambtious politicians," as "professional politicians," men who have rendered service to the State. Thank Fortune, they are not mushroom politicians, produced by an autumn shower, and doomed to nonexistence before the leafage of spring. Neither are they men who have ever pocketed a dollar of the people's gold for years of service in behalf of self-government. They are those who have earned their own bread, spent their own modey, and have never knocked at the door of the public treasury for a dime. They are neither McCreights nor Robertsons, who only come to the surface when they can stick their heads into the public crib and fatten on the Provincial treasury; but they are men who will, and of right ought to guide the destinies of this yonng country. The hotton that two or three parrenu politicians are going to govern this country is simply absurd. There is a sonnder judgment and a better notion of justice abroad in the country, than our mushroom politicians imagine. It is not mushroom politicians imagine. It is not frizzled horse-hair covering personified selfishness intensified, that can control the Government of this Province. The men who will govern this country are the class that the Guardian bas been inspired to denounce. Hence, we hurl back in the teeth of its inspirers defiance, but unless some remedy is found for the present distress, the Englishman augurs but badly for the British in India. Mail Route to Australia.

From the San Francisco Bulletin of Novemer 7th we copy :

Advices received by the recent mail represent the Australian colonists as busily engaged discussing the question respecting their future mail service with Great Britain. A committee had been sitting at Melbourne in September on the subject, but up to the dewho was expected to be in Melbourne in Octoher to discuss the subject with the Austra via the Cape of Good Hoje.

The project now is stronger than ever that the San Francisco route will te one of Nebraska, bad tilited Melbourne, and judgthe favor with which our route was being ering themselves as representing the most important colony, desire that their own port Age suggests that this could be accomplished by Mr. Webb providing a double service from the Navigator Islands. The advent of American wool buyers in Victoria, who took pas-sage in the Nebraska, will be a strong incentive in stimulating the colonists to subsidize he San Francisco route, showing that it is to their interest to afford the utmost facilities for commercial intercourse with America.

For the Front.

Post there, and any that might be met Morris. On being informed that the occufternson the two companies of Service Volunteers, Capt Konneder's Artillery, and Capt. Mulvey's Company paraded ready for the march. The weather was exceedingly disagreeable, a cold drizzling rain fa'ling steadily all the afternoon. But this did not in the least cool the arder of the men, who were if anything too eager for the fray. preparations with all their might, and a little after dark the force was safely landed on the south side of the river, and shortly after took up the line of march. Although the night was intensely dark and the roads frightful bad, there was no grumbling. The first halt was sounded about five miles from the Ourside.—A barkentine, supposed to be bound for Nanaimo, was off the harbor yesterday morning. THE INVENTOR of this novel machine is a stranger here, his home being somewhere in the country. We were unable to find him, but his plans were related to us by a gentleman who had con-versed with him on the subject. He is described as a gray-haired old man of considerable intelligence, and a firm beiiever in the possibility of successfully navigating the air. Although evidently near the grave, he expects to perfect his idea of arial boating to such an extent as to take a trip among the stars before shuffling off this mortal coil. If his plan of parture of the mail its deliberations had not been made public. Pending its decision the will consider the problem solved and at once will consider the problem solved and at once slons. He does not propose, however, to make his flight from the top of a tree, but merely to suspend his apparatus by ropes therefrom for the purpose of trying his experiments. the P. & O. route, via Point de Galle and A WIFE AS JUSTICE PASSES SENTENCE ON HER LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICE FOR CASH.

One of the best of the many stories told in connection with the official action of Mrs. hose selected. Mr. Webb's steamer, the Justice-of-the-Peace Morris, of Sweetwater beforekt, bad thited Melbourne, and judg county Wyoming, is by a Cheyenue correspond from the tone of the press, had increased pondent of the New York San; and it indi entes, besides, some of the delicate questions epasidered. Mr. Vogel may be expected to which must arise with the assumption by land. The Victoria people, probably consid- taking a social glass occasionally; and one day, during the lady's absence at Court, and when be should have been attending the bou'd be a ferminal point, and the Melbourne bables, his friends-for the purpose of making a test case, doubtless-plied him with liquor until he was drunk, and then bad him arrested and taken before his wife, the Justice. This was the result.

Mr. Morris' head was not sufficiently clear to comprehend the situation. He began to assert his sovereign rights in contempt of Court, until sudden'y brought up by the officer, in obedience to the Court's order. Seeing that things had changed somewhat, and that Othello's] occupation had at last suspended, he began to expostulate first with the officer, until informed by that functionary that he had no discretion, but was acting under orders from the Court.

with in the Province. At half-past two in the pant of the beach was the Judge, Mr. Morris looked at the justice with a puzzled air scattered thoughts, and ejaculated: "Herher—(hic)—she is—that a Esther—my wife Esther—you're drunk, or—oh don't bother me (hic)," and he started to go.

'Lock up the prisoner for contempt of Court," said Mrs. Morris to the officer.

What have you to say about it, ch?' blurted out Mr. Morris, staggering menacing); toward the Judge.

Officer, lock him up," replied her Honor.

Although badly mixed, Mr. Morris began to get a glimmer of the truth, and began a parley. "Now look here, Mr. Officer, don't you be in a burry. I didn't mean anything wrong, I want to just talk with my wife a minute. Now, Esther, what's the use of fcolin'? you jist git down out o' there and go home and behave yourself. I'll tend to this little much to the disgust of the men, who had difficulty myself. Now go right along; the carnestly hoped to be allowed one pop at the rascals. The troops arrived home this afternoon.

Every provision was made for the comfort old bottle, and I don't blame him either. f the men, under the management of Major The dishes ain't washed, nor the beds made, neither. And what's more, I ain't goion' to do it any more, now. You hear that. Now start along."

feelings warmed from that of expe to that of command again, and the officer orced his way into the radely constructed lock-up in the rear of her Honor's Court, and there Mr. Morris was left to reflect upon the situation, and gaze upon the dividing wall between himself and wife as the dividing line between man's and woman's rights under this new despensation. On the following mornbread and a quantity of excellent cooked ing Mr. Morris was arraigned tefore her meat distributed to each of them before Honor, and in the most sober and subdued taking up the march. pleaded guilty, asked the pardon of the Court for contempt, begged its elemency and then awaited his sentence with humanity and resignation. After giving the prisoner Caudle lecture as amended by the laws of Wyoming, her honor imposed the usual fine and required the prisoner to give bonds to keep the peace, upon which the Court offered to let him go, and Mr. Morris vanished.
